

Sheep health workshops for small landholders

This practical, hands-on workshop is designed for hobby and small-scale farmers wanting to know more about feeding their flock and sheep health. Delivered as a Saturday morning session, it will focus on building confidence in sheep management skills.

Topics include:

- Sheep nutrition basics (emphasis on pre-lambing)
- Pasture versus supplementary feeding
- Practical body condition scoring
- Identification of common sheep foot health issues
- Overview of on-farm biosecurity

You will get the chance to apply theory to practice with on-farm practicals integrated into the workshops.

Dates:

- March 28 (9am - 12pm) at Mount Torrens
- April 18 (9am - 12pm) at Waitpinga
- May 2 (9am - 12pm) at Meadows
